Run Your Business on Autopilot

The Done-For-You AI Starter System for Coaches, Consultants, and Service Businesses

Your AI configured, your five core templates ready, your first session today.

WHAT YOU HAVE IN YOUR HANDS

Part 1:	Quick-Start Setup Guide
Part 2:	Your AI Configuration File
Part 3:	5 Core Templates
Bonus:	Setup Video Walkthrough

BEFORE YOU BEGIN:

This system works with ChatGPT Plus ($20/month) or Claude Pro ($20/month). Free tiers of either also work for most tasks. No technical skills required. If you can copy and paste, you can set this up. Total setup time: 45 to 90 minutes.

PART ONE

Why This System Exists

You started your own business because you are good at what you do and you wanted to help people. At no point did you sign up to spend your evenings writing follow-up emails, staring at a blank content calendar, rewriting the same proposal for the fourth time this month, or trying to explain your onboarding process to a new client who asked a question you have answered a hundred times before.

And yet here you are. Doing exactly that. Because nobody handed you a system. The owners who are scaling past $10K, $15K, $20K a month are not working harder than you. They have systems that handle the operational and marketing overhead while they focus on delivering results for clients. This toolkit gives you those systems, built on AI tools that exist right now and cost less per month than a single client lunch.

What this system eliminates:

- ✓ Spending 2 to 3 hours per week writing social media content from scratch
- ✓ Rewriting the same client emails over and over from memory
- ✓ Inconsistent communication that quietly damages client trust and retention
- ✓ Proposal writing that takes a full afternoon instead of 20 minutes
- ✓ Operations and processes that live only in your head
- ✓ Showing up inconsistently online because content feels like a second job

The Honest Expectation:

This system will not run your business for you. AI is a highly skilled collaborator, not a replacement for your expertise or relationships. What it does is handle the writing, structuring, and operational documentation so your time goes toward the work only you can do. It is built to hand you back 5 to 8 hours every week, starting the first week.

PART TWO

The Three Pillars of Your Command Center

Your AI Command Center operates across three areas of your business. This free starter kit covers Pillar 1 and the core of Pillar 2. The full system covers all three. Together they cover everything that currently consumes your non-client time.

PILLAR 1

Content and Marketing

Your AI keeps your business visible without consuming your week.

- ✓ Weekly social media posts for LinkedIn and Instagram
- ✓ Monthly email newsletter written in your voice
- ✓ Blog posts and thought leadership articles
- ✓ Launch content for new programs or offers
- ✓ Repurposing one piece of content across multiple platforms

PILLAR 2

Client Communication

Every client interaction is professional, personal, and timely.

- ✓ New client welcome and onboarding sequences
- ✓ Proposal and scope of work documents
- ✓ Session follow-up summaries and action items
- ✓ Difficult conversation and feedback emails
- ✓ Re-engagement messages to past clients

PILLAR 3

Operations and Systems

Your business is documented and runs consistently with or without you.

- ✓ Client onboarding workflow and checklist
- ✓ Standard operating procedures for recurring tasks
- ✓ Weekly business review and planning template
- ✓ Contractor and VA briefing documents
- ✓ Program curriculum outlines and session frameworks

PART THREE

Setting Up Your Command Center

Follow these four steps in order. Most owners complete the full setup in a single afternoon. After that, the system runs on a simple daily and weekly routine that takes under 30 minutes.

STEP 1:

Set Up Your AI Tool

15 to 20 minutes

Create a free account at claude.ai or chat.openai.com if you do not already have one. Claude tends to produce stronger long-form writing and more nuanced client communication. ChatGPT's Custom GPT feature (available on the Plus plan) lets you save a configured assistant you can return to without re-entering instructions each time. Start with whichever tool you are already comfortable with. Both work with this system.

- Create your account or log in to your existing one
- Ask it one simple question about your business to get familiar with the interface
- Note which tool you are using before moving to Step 2

STEP 2:

Install Your Custom GPT Configuration

20 to 30 minutes

Open the document titled 'Your AI Configuration File' from your download folder. This contains the complete system prompt that transforms a generic AI into your personalized business assistant. It covers your niche, brand voice framework, communication style, and instructions for all three pillars. You fill in five bracketed fields. Then you paste it in.

- Open the GPT Configuration File from your download
- Watch Video 1: Setup (link in the Configuration File document)
- Fill in the five [YOUR INFORMATION] fields with your specific details
- Paste the completed configuration into your AI tool per the video instructions
- Test it: ask 'Write a LinkedIn post introducing my business philosophy'

STEP 3:*Load Your 5 Core Templates

10 to 15 minutes

Your download includes your 5 Core Templates: a monthly content calendar, a LinkedIn thought leadership post, a proposal and scope of work, a new client welcome email, and a weekly business review. They are designed to work with your installed AI configuration so the output sounds like you, not a robot. Save this document to Google Drive so it is accessible from any device.

- Save the 5 Core Templates to Google Drive
- Read through all five so you know what is available
- Choose the one you will use first this week
- Bookmark the Google Drive folder for quick daily access

STEP 4:Run Your First Session

10 to 20 minutes

Before building a habit, you need a win. Pick one real task you need to do this week for your business. Find the matching template. Open your configured AI. Complete the task. The first time you get a near-perfect draft in under three minutes, the system clicks in a way no guide can explain.

- Pick one task: a social post, a client email, or a proposal section
- Open your AI tool with the configuration already installed
- Use the matching template from your library as your starting prompt
- Review the output, make your edits, and use it
- Note how long it took compared to writing from scratch

PART FOUR

Your Daily and Weekly Workflow

The setup is a one-time investment. The workflow below is what keeps your business running consistently without consuming your day. This schedule assumes you are posting 3 to 4 times per week on social media, sending one newsletter per month, and managing 5 to 15 active clients.

The Weekly Rhythm

MONDAY

15 min

Content Planning

Draft your posts for the week using Template 2, the LinkedIn thought leadership post. Schedule them using Buffer or Later (both have free tiers). If it is the start of the month, run the Monthly Content Calendar prompt first (Template 1) to plan the full month in one session.

TUESDAY

10 min

Client Communication

Review your client list. New client this week? Send the welcome email from Template 4. Anyone needing a check-in? Ask your AI to draft it. Your AI drafts it in 30 seconds. You review and send. Also the best day to send proposals using Template 3.

WEDNESDAY

10 min

One Operations Task

Pick one thing you have been putting off: a follow-up, an inquiry reply, an update to your services page. Ask your configured AI to draft it. Small and consistent beats occasional and heroic.

THURSDAY

10 min

Engagement and Visibility

Respond to comments from earlier posts. Use your AI to draft replies to complex questions that deserve a thoughtful response. Publish your second post of the week if not already done.

FRIDAY

20 min

Review and Plan

Run the Weekly Business Review (Template 5). Note what worked, what did not, and your top three priorities for next week. This 20-minute habit is the single biggest differentiator between owners who scale and those who plateau.

Total active time per week: 65 minutes. That covers your entire marketing and operations overhead. Everything else is your AI handling the drafting, structuring, and formatting while you review and approve.

PART FIVE

Your First 7 Days

This checklist maps your first week with the starter kit. Follow it in sequence and by day seven you will know exactly where AI fits in your business. The full system takes it from there.

WEEK 1:

One Win Per Day

- ☐ Day 1: Complete all four setup steps from Part Three
- ☐ Day 2: Run Template 2 and publish one LinkedIn post
- ☐ Day 3: Draft one client email or proposal with Template 3 or 4
- ☐ Day 4: Run Template 1 and plan the rest of your month's content
- ☐ Day 5: Run your first Weekly Business Review with Template 5
- ☐ Day 6: Save your best outputs to Google Drive for reuse
- ☐ Day 7: Notice what you did not do this week: stare at a blank page
- ☐ Ongoing: repeat the weekly rhythm from Part Four

Run Your Business on Autopilot Your 5 Core Templates

Part 3 of 3: your 5 core templates, ready to use. Open your configured AI, pick a template, paste, fill in the brackets, done.

How to use these templates:

Each template is a prompt you paste directly into your configured AI assistant. Replace everything in [BRACKETS] with your specific information. The more specific you are inside the brackets, the better and more personalized the output. After your first use, save outputs you love to a Google Doc for reuse.

01

Monthly Content Calendar

PILLAR 1: CONTENT AND MARKETING

Run this once at the start of each month to plan your entire social media calendar in one session

You are the content strategist for [YOUR BUSINESS NAME], a [YOUR NICHE OR INDUSTRY] business. Create a 4-week social media content calendar targeting [YOUR IDEAL CLIENT]. Include one post idea per weekday (Monday through Friday), 20 ideas total. For each idea include: - The topic or angle - The platform best suited (LinkedIn, Instagram, or Facebook) - One sentence describing what the post will cover - The content type (story, tip, question, case study, behind the scenes, or promotion) My core themes this month are: [LIST 2 TO 3 KEY THEMES OR TOPICS YOU WANT TO FOCUS ON] Tone: [YOUR TONE] Current offer or program I want to weave in: [CURRENT OFFER OR LEAVE BLANK]

Pro Tip: Change your themes each month to keep content fresh. Run this on the last Friday of each month for next month.

02

LinkedIn Post: Thought Leadership

PILLAR 1: CONTENT AND MARKETING

Positions you as a trusted expert. Strong hook, clear insight, no bullet points in the body.

Write a LinkedIn post for [YOUR BUSINESS NAME], a [YOUR NICHE OR INDUSTRY] business owner. Topic: [TOPIC OR LESSON YOU WANT TO SHARE] The post should: - Open with a hook that immediately captures attention: a surprising statement, a counter-intuitive truth, or a relatable moment - Develop the idea across at least 4 paragraphs with clear narrative flow - Include one concrete example or story that illustrates the point - End with a question that invites comments and conversation - Sound like a trusted expert speaking to a peer, not a teacher lecturing a student No bullet points in the body of the post. Target length: 180 to 250 words. Tone: [YOUR TONE]

Pro Tip: The opening line is everything on LinkedIn. If you are not happy with it, ask for three alternative openings.

03

Proposal and Scope of Work

PILLAR 2: CLIENT COMMUNICATION

Professional proposal focused on outcomes. Leads with their problem, not your credentials.

Write a services proposal for [YOUR BUSINESS NAME] to send to a prospective client. Prospective client: [CLIENT NAME OR DESCRIPTION] Their stated challenge or goal: [WHAT THEY TOLD YOU THEY NEED] My recommended approach: [BRIEFLY DESCRIBE WHAT YOU ARE PROPOSING, E.G. A 3-MONTH ENGAGEMENT OR 6 SESSIONS] What is included: [LIST THE KEY ELEMENTS: sessions, deliverables, email support, etc.] Investment: [PRICE OR PRICE RANGE] Timeline: [START DATE AND DURATION] Next step: [WHAT YOU WANT THEM TO DO: sign and return, schedule a call, etc.] The proposal should: - Open with a clear demonstration that I understand their specific situation - Present my approach as the natural solution to their stated problem - Keep the focus on their outcomes, not my credentials - Be confident without being pushy - Close with a clear, low-friction next step Tone: [YOUR TONE] Length: 300 to 400 words.

Pro Tip: Always lead with their problem in the opening paragraph. Clients hire the person who understands them, not the one with the longest credentials list.

04

New Client Welcome Email

PILLAR 2: CLIENT COMMUNICATION

The first impression that sets the entire client relationship up for success.

Write a warm, professional welcome email to a new client of [YOUR BUSINESS NAME]. Client name: [CLIENT NAME] They have just: [signed an agreement / made their first payment / booked their first session] Their focus: [WHAT THEY ARE WORKING ON IN BRIEF] What happens next: [BRIEFLY DESCRIBE THE NEXT 1 TO 3 STEPS IN YOUR PROCESS] The email should: - Open with genuine warmth, not corporate formality - Confirm what they have signed up for and what happens next in clear, simple steps - Set expectations about [YOUR COMMUNICATION STYLE / RESPONSE TIME / HOW YOU WORK] - Close in a way that makes them feel they have made a great decision Tone: [YOUR TONE] Length: Under 200 words. Do not use "I look forward to working with you" because it is overused. Find a fresher way to close.

Pro Tip: Customize the "what happens next" section to match your exact onboarding process.

05

Weekly Business Review

PILLAR 3: OPERATIONS AND SYSTEMS

The 20-minute Friday ritual that keeps your business growing with clarity instead of chaos.

Create a weekly business review template for [YOUR BUSINESS NAME]. My current stage: [E.G. building to $10K/month, stabilizing, launching a new offer] My primary revenue streams: [LIST THEM] My current active client count: [NUMBER] My revenue goal for this month: [AMOUNT] The weekly review template should prompt me to assess: - Revenue this week vs. target - New leads or inquiries received - Proposals sent and their status - Client satisfaction signals (positive and negative) - Content published and engagement - Top three wins of the week - Top one or two challenges - One thing to stop doing, start doing, or do differently - Top three priorities for next week Format as a fillable template I can complete in 20 minutes every Friday.

Pro Tip: Do not skip this when things are going well. The patterns you need to see only appear when you track consistently.

PS

Want All 15 Templates?

RUN YOUR BUSINESS ON AUTOPILOT: THE FULL SYSTEM

Everything the starter kit does not cover, handled.

The complete system includes all 15 templates: Instagram captions, email newsletters, content repurposing, session follow-ups, difficult conversation emails, re-engagement messages, onboarding checklists, standard operating procedures, offboarding workflows, and program outlines. Plus the 3-part video walkthrough series and the 90-Day Revenue Acceleration Checklist that turns saved time into growth. Get the full system at OffMyDesk.pro. And if you would rather have the whole thing set up for you, Off My Desk Professionals configures complete AI systems for client-based businesses in a single working session.

Pro Tip: The free kit is yours to keep either way. The full system is for owners who want the entire operational layer handled.
